From War Zones

Offensive gestures by German troops occurred today on the western front when three assaults were made against French positions in the Saarbruecken area.

At the same time Paris military dispatches said Adolf Hitler and his commander-in-chief, Gen. Walther Von Brauchitsch, had visited that sector.

Whether these initial assaults presage an offensive by the German army or were sporadic raids to recoup territory lost to the Poles, is unknown.

Saarbruecken, important ammunition center for the Siegfried line emplacements, is a prize Germany will defend with all her strength and one which the French would consider as valuable as Metz or Sedan in the last World War.

Meanwhile, the highly-mechanized German forces were being withdrawn from sections of Poland and rushed to the western front where only 15 to 20 divisions now guard the Siegfried line.

Across the "no man's land" between the Siegfried and Maginot lines, 70 to 100 French divisions are massed along with an unannounced number of British units.

Aviation activity in the northern section of the western front was reported by both sides, with German planes also active near the Swiss border.

Hitler asserted last week that he was prepared for a seven-year war if necessary. Today additional rigid food rationing was announced in Berlin effective Monday. Bread finally has come under the rationing restriction, but potatoes, fruits, fish and fresh vegetables may still be purchased without cards.

Rumania Checks Revolt; Prepare Premier's Rites

By LLOYD LEHRBAS

Bucharest, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Rumania's virtual military dictatorship worked to check any possible disorders in the country as plans for the slain Premier Armand Calinescu's funeral were completed today.

Slight differences were rumored in the provinces, but they could not be confirmed.

The nation as a whole appeared to foreign observers to be reverting to calm, with Rumanian authorities asserting confidence that retaliatory measures—in the form of a purge of Iron Guards—had provided an effective object lesson for any dissident elements.

The entire nation will be in a state of mourning tomorrow during the Calinescu funeral services at the Athenaeum in the presence of high officials and members of Calinescu's family. The body then will be taken in a procession to the railway station for the journey to Calinescu's family home at Curtea De Arges, 90 miles northwest of Bucharest.

There, in accordance with Calinescu's wishes, the body will be taken in a peasant cart and drawn by six oxen to the grave.

While the government said 292 members of the pro-Nazi Iron Guard had been executed in punishment for the assassination Thursday of Calinescu, informed sources said the executions totaled "nearly 2,000," including some women.

The Iron Guard, an object of Calinescu's hatred, is an outlawed, pro-Nazi organization which was accused of plotting an uprising after the premier's assassination Thursday on a Bucharest street.

Parking Regulations Generally Approved

The new 90-minute parking regulation in Dixon's business district is being received with the unanimous approval of both the business interests and the public. Police continued today to issue warning tickets to violators of the ordinance who fail to park within the marked zones, and all double parking is being eliminated.

The public is co-operating in taking advantage of the 90-minute parking zones, which are of sufficient length to eliminate cramped parking conditions. The parking spaces along the river bank have been marked off into zones and police are enforcing the regulations which provide uniform parking conditions.

Steadily-increasing casualty lists included many injured at Smyrna. Turkish seaport on the west coast of Asia Minor.

By The Associated Press

Three German attacks on the western front were reported today to have been thrown back by the French while on the eastern front the Germans announced the loss in battle of their former army commander-in-chief, Col. Gen. Baron Werner Von Fritsch.

Military dispatches to Paris said the new activity on the western front coincided with the presence there of Fuehrer Hitler and the army commander-in-chief, Col. Gen. Walther Von Brauchitsch. Hitler only yesterday had been reported on heights overlooking Warsaw.

"Great activity" on the western front was reported in a French general staff communique as Swiss observers in Basel said they saw indications that the newly-reinforced German forces would seek to take the offensive from the French.

French said the Germans made three separate attacks in an effort to regain German territory held by the Poles near Saarbruecken, but were cut down by lethal fire. German artillery paved the way for the attacks with artillery bombardment described as "more intensive" than any before on the front.

In Mid-West—

Chicago, Sept. 23.—(AP)—

Comfortably cool temperatures prevailed over the middle-west today prior to the official advent of autumn at 4:50 P. m. (Central Standard Time) when the sun will cross the Equator in its annual trek into the southern hemisphere.

Falling temperatures occurred in North Dakota last night, but elsewhere over the central west there was no real chilly weather. Forecaster C. A. Donnell of the government weather bureau reported.

He predicted higher temperature readings in some parts of the mid-west tomorrow, with sagging figures in other sections.

Dixon Students Offered Lesson in Americanism

Students of Dixon schools are being offered an unusual opportunity for an impressive lesson in democracy and Americanism by attending the benefit picture, "The 400 Million", which Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans will sponsor Tuesday afternoon and evening at the Masonic temple. A special ten-cent matinee has been arranged for children for 4 P. M., and the evening shows will follow at 7 and 9 P. M.

Frederic March, famous motion picture actor, is narrator in the show, which is the first and only authentic talking motion picture of the Japanese invasion of China. Louise Rancier is one of the sponsors of the picture, now on a special tour of America, arranged by the Universal Producing company of Fairfield, Iowa.

Stresses Peace

Though there are a few bombing scenes, the film, for the most part, dwells principally upon the benefits of peace, and living conditions under a dictatorship. History-making events that will have a profound influence on the future of the world are vividly portrayed. Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Chinese generalissimo, appears in several of the scenes.

In addition to the full-length feature, three short subjects will be shown, including films of the composer, Carrie Jacobs-Bond, Singin' Sam, and a comedy.

Mrs. Gladys Rayzor of San Antonio, Tex., representative of the Universal Producing company, is assisting members of the Wa-Tan-Ye chapter with ticket sales. Miss Frances Patrick is the chapter president, and Mrs. Merle Potter is ticket chairman.

After 10 per cent has been deducted by the club giving trial, the finals will be paid, first tree, 50 per cent; first line, 30 per cent; second tree, 20 per cent.

FDR SMILES OFF ANSWER TO THIRD TERM QUESTION

Landon Suggests Reply Would Be Service to Troubled Nation

Hyde Park, N. Y., Sept. 23.—(AP)—President Roosevelt smilingly turned down today an invitation to reply to a suggestion by former Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas that he announce to the country that he did not want a third term.

Reporters clustered around him in a hay field, where a new library will rise, showed the president an excerpt from Landon's statement that the "greatest single contribution" the chief executive could make in the present troubled situation would be to tell the country categorically he did not want a third term and would refuse the nomination if it were offered.

The president said he had not seen Landon's full statement, and would be unable to comment.

Must Protect Himself

He added that he was sorry, but that he had to protect himself.

"I wish you would son," said his 85-year-old mother, who was seated beside the president in his blue touring car.

She had asserted on the occasion of her birthday anniversary Thursday, that she believed her son had no desire for a third term.

The president arrived at his Hyde Park home this morning to spend the week-end with his mother. A belated celebration of her birthday anniversary was arranged for tonight at a dinner for members of the family and neighbors.

Although Roosevelt had indicated before leaving Washington that he expected to be back at the White House Monday, he said today his return depended mostly on the news he received from Washington. He talked with officials in the capital by telephone about lunch time.

With Granddaughter

In the rear seat of his car as he drove to the site of the library were his granddaughters, Sarah and Kate, children of his son, James.

White House officials had said Roosevelt would break ground for the library today, but a steam shovel already had cut 10 feet deep.

The president chatted with John McShain of Philadelphia, contractor for the library, McShain's wife and 11-year-old daughter, Pauline, and with Paul Hauck of Pittsburgh.

Hauck will be superintendent of the library, which will house the president's historical papers and collections.

Hitch-Hiker is Killed by Auto at Prairieville

John Stephen Koxinski, 25, supposedly of Windber, Penna., a hitch-hiker, was struck and almost instantly killed, while walking on the route 30 pavement near Prairieville at 1:30 o'clock this morning, by a car driven by Robert McGregor of Sterling, who had as a passenger, Kent Ogada, also of Sterling.

The unfortunate man, papers in his pockets indicate, was a veteran of the Polish army in 1930 and 1931, and it is believed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koxinski, also live in Windber.

His body was thrown into the ditch, and an examination conducted by Acting Coroner Dr. A. F. Moore of this city, showed his skull was fractured, his neck and both arms were broken and his right leg was almost severed from the body.

The inquest will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Jones funeral home.

EMBARGO'S FATE RESTS IN VOTES OF 32 SENATORS

44 Favor Administration Proposal; 20 Will Oppose Repeal

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—An Associated Press compilation showed today that 44 senators, within five of a majority, had announced they favored repeal of the embargo on exports of arms to Europe's warring nations.

Twenty members have expressed themselves in opposition to repeal of the embargo, while 32, holding the balance of power, either have declined publicly to commit themselves at this time or have not been reached for comment.

Although, on its face, the division gave the administration a big head-start in the race for votes at the historic session of congress just started, analysis of members' statements showed some factors likely to provide obstacles for the president's supporters.

For one thing, several of those who said they would vote for repeal of the embargo added they would do so only on condition that a strict "cash and carry" statute were enacted in its place. A prohibition against American ships carrying goods of any kind to belligerents, now being written into the administration's repeal bill, may satisfy some of these.

Others of the repeal group, however, said they would oppose a "cash and carry" plan and would insist on a return to international law. Under the 1909 treaty of London, which is still considered a fundamental thesis of international law, neutrals had the right to ship war materials to any belligerent, but any belligerent had the right to seize such materials en route to his enemy.

Result of Poll

Among senators who declined publicly to express themselves at this time on the embargo question were Donahay (D-O), Wiley (R-Wis), Slattery (D-Ill), and Gillette (D-Ia).

Those who expressed themselves as favoring elimination of the present embargo included: Taft (R-O), Herring (D-Ia), Truman (D-Mo), Minton (D-Ind), Lucas (D-Ill), Brown (D-Mich).

Thousands Sign Appeal to Retain Arms Embargo

Kankakee, Ill., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Within a few hours after petitions were put into circulation, thousands of persons today signed an appeal to the Illinois congressional delegation to oppose repeal of the arms embargo provision in the neutrality act.

The petitions were circulated as the result of a meeting in the city hall last night at which leading citizens, mothers of sons of military age, clergymen and business and professional men expressed their views on the foreign conflict.

The consensus was that removing the embargo would result in foreign entanglement and eventual American participation.

The petition read: "Desiring to keep this country in peace and out of all foreign wars, we respectfully urge you to vote against the repeal of the arms embargo and further use your influence in any legislation which will restrain any of our citizens from making profit out of the miseries and misfortunes of other people."

In Reverse

LaFayette, Tenn., Sept. 23.—(AP)—This is the tale of two football teams, or how to go crazy in one easy lesson.

Celina and LaFayette high schools played what was advertised as a football game: Both sides lost more ground than they gained. LaFayette gained 62, lost 78 while Celina marched 73 and backed up 83. But Celina won 2-0 because they pushed LaFayette back of its own goal line.

Little Difference in Two Bids Submitted for Street Resurfacing Jobs

Two contractors submitted bids for the improvement of Dixon streets which are to be surfaced with black topping this fall when the city council met last evening and the figures differed about $25. Fifth street is to be treated to Dement avenues, and on Fourth with a recoating from Highland street from Galena to Crawford, the present badly washed street is to be replaced with a black top surface.

Charles O'Brien & Son of Morris, Ill., submitted a bid of $1,947.75 for the two improvements while the bid of the C. F. Settle Construction Co., of Moline amounted to $1,973.01. The bids were placed on file in the office of City Clerk Wayne C. Smith until Tuesday, when the council will meet in special session to award the contract. The work is to be completed this fall and is paid for from the city's share of the motor fuel tax.

An ordinance providing for the construction of an extension to the sanitary sewer system on East Graham street, at an estimated cost of $2,905.35, was passed by the council, the improvement to be installed by special assessment to property owners.

Commissioner Cal Tyler told the council that he desired to publicly commend Commissioners Carl Newman and Joe Valle for their co-operation in expediting the marking of the streets in conformity with the new parking ordinance.

An application filed by Lieut. James Ketchin for a soft drink license at the new Armory was granted by the council.

In Far West

Los Angeles, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Cattle a throughout coastal California spilled their population into mountain and beach resorts today as thousands sought relief during the week-end from the state's longest, most oppressive heat wave.

Mountain temperatures, 100 miles inland, have remained normal—from 50 degrees into the 70's—and ocean breezes somewhat cooled the immediate shoreline.

In Los Angeles and other cities, however, temperatures remained near or above 100 as the state's death toll from the week-long oven-like heat rose to more than 90.

The weather bureau said "somewhat cooler" temperatures were in prospect late today.

Former Chief of German Army Died in Action

Berlin, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Colonel General Baron Werner von Fritsch, former commander-in-chief of the German army, has been killed in action in front of Warsaw while fighting in a comparatively minor post.

Colonel General Walther Von Brauchitsch, the present commander-in-chief, announced that yesterday "there fell in Poland, before Warsaw in the foremost line while carrying out a violent reconnoitering operation, Colonel General Von Fritsch, chief of the artillery regiment number 12."

"Having taken to the field on the side of his artillery regiment on the first day, he who truly lived an exemplary life for his army now also died an exemplary death and gave his all unconditionally."

"Deeply moved and in deep mourning, my fields with a great pride, the army stands at the bier of this great soldier."

First word of the death came from Hitler's headquarters.

It was made clear he held no army command nor any other post corresponding to his rank of Colonel General, just below that of Field Marshal.

State Funeral Ordered

Von Fritsch, who resigned as commander-in-chief after the fuhrer shook up the army leadership in February, 1928, had been made honorary commander of the Twelfth Artillery regiment.

This post was bestowed by Hitler "in recognition of great service in rebuilding of the third reich"—considered a move to re-instate him in a position of honor.

Announcement of his death was the first official intimation von Fritsch was at the front. Only yesterday it was reported in Berlin he was not in Poland.

Hitler ordered a state funeral for the 59-year-old energetic, old-school officer and issued an order of the day honoring his memory.

Prior to his fall from power last year Von Fritsch had played an outstanding role in the recreation of the German army, in whose invasion of Poland he had only a minor part.

Berlin sources yesterday said that he had volunteered for active service although his failure to keep in step with the fuhrer last year was believed to have relegated him to the sidelines. It was understood he disagreed with the Nazi leadership's plans for the absorption of Austria, which came the month following his resignation.

Polish Liner Is Canada Bound With Small Crew

New York, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The 16,000-ton Polish liner Batory was bound for a Canadian port today, leaving behind 200 crew members who said they had refused to sail the ship to Canada for war service as a munitions carrier.

A skeleton crew of 100 remained aboard the vessel, reported to be headed for Halifax. The ship, pride of the Dydna-American line, had been anchored far up the Hudson river since September 5 as a precaution against possible sabotage.

The crew members left behind, including 15 stewardsesses, had delayed the sailing by staging a "sit-down strike" in the engine room. They left the vessel quietly at the order of Police Captain Henry S. Murphy of Yonkers, who said he had been summoned by Polish Consul General Dr. Sylwester Gruska.

Capt. Murphy said the sailors were incensed over the unexplained removal of Captain Eustazy Borkowski, World War hero, as master of the Batory. Borkowski, decorated 12 times by four foreign governments for bravery during the last war, was replaced by First Officer Francizek Szudziński.

Roman Kutylowski, American dictator of the Gdynia-American line, issued a statement denying there had been a mutiny aboard the vessel, or that it carried ammunition or war materials of any kind.

Capt. Murphy said the rebellious crew members told him the Batory was being taken to Canada to carry munitions to England, and that they had no wish to run the risk of being torpedoed.

OPPONENTS PLAN NATIONAL DRIVE TO RETAIN LAW

Administration Hopes to Win Support for the Proposal

Washington, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A strict prohibition against American vessels carrying "any articles, materials or passengers" to any belligerents was incorporated today in the administration's bill to repeal the embargo against arms shipments to warring nations.

Some Senators thought the new provision was designed to win the support of legislators who, like Alf M. Landon, the 1936 Republican presidential candidate, reported strong sentiment in the country for a general "cash and carry" system of sales to belligerents.

It was said reliably the bill also would tighten up on presidential discretion, using the word "shall" instead of "may" frequently in outlining the Chief Executive's duties under the legislation.

Opponents of President Roosevelt's neutrality program arranged to open a national campaign against repeal of the arms embargo next week.

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, American war ace, will start the drive, it was disclosed, in a radio address Tuesday night (NBC hookup, 6:45 P. M., CST).

Meeting today in the office of Senator Nye (R-N.D.), Senators Nye, Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Shipstead (FL-Minn.) conferred with Rickenbacker and Jay C. Hormel, Austin, Minn., meat packer, on plans for a national anti-repeal committee, to function independently of Congress.

Others Mentioned

Such persons as Henry Ford, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and former Governor Phil LaFollette of Wisconsin were mentioned as possible members of the committee.

Chairman Pittman (D-Nev.) of the Senate foreign relations committee added the ban against American ships carrying anything to warring nations as a "seventh point" to his bill translating the administration's six-point neutrality revision program into legislative terms.

He called all Democratic members of the committee, except Senator Clark of Missouri, an anti-repeal leader, to a meeting today to explain it.

The full committee will not meet until Monday. Pittman expressed belief the group would send the measure to the Senate floor, with a favorable report, in three or four days.

The Nevada said he believed Roosevelt would support the new clause, although such a ban was lacking in the previous administration program and only implied in other points prohibiting American ships from entering combat areas.

These points will be retained.

Cost of Fuels Requires Study

Service Available Also Needs Scrutiny

Federal Housing Administration officials urge prospective home buyers to study carefully the costs of the fuels and service available in the community. The degree of comfort and convenience to be expected should be balanced against the relative costs.

In choosing a fuel, recognizing the increasing trend toward automatic operation of heating equipment, comparisons can be made on the basis that average coal contains about 13,000 heat units per pound. Of this, about 50 to 60 per cent will be delivered as useful heat. With average fuel oil, each gallon contains about 130,000 heat units from which about 60 to 75 per cent of the heat units will be delivered as useful heat.

Each cubic foot of manufactured gas contains about 550 heat units, while each cubic foot of natural gas contains about 1,000 heat units. With either gas, about 75 to 85 per cent of the heat units will be converted into useful heat.

Of course, types of fuel vary in cost in particular communities.

INSULATE COLD CELLAR CEILING

A great deal of cold may enter your upper rooms if the basement ceilings are not insulated. It will surprise you to see how much warmer the floors will be if you insulate the ceilings. This is easy to do by using one of several insulating boards now on the market.

More Sunlight Enlivens Outmoded Home

Many home owners, in modernizing their houses, are making provisions for larger glass areas which bring life to a dull or slightly outmoded building, Federal Housing Administration officials say.

The free entry of sunlight and air into the home, from the attic to the basement, is being accomplished in many homes through the increasing use of corner windows, glassed-in dining alcoves, French doors, and even room-length walls of glass.

Old homes which do not have enough natural light may be remodeled to provide a more generous glass area with funds obtainable under FHA's Modernization Credit Plan from qualified lending institutions.

HINTS FOR HOME OWNERS

Properly Located Equipment
Housekeeping has been freed from much drudgery in those homes where scientific kitchen planning has been put into practice. While the automatic features of many kitchen devices have contributed considerably to lightening kitchen tasks, the location of the equipment in proper relation to work is also of prime importance.

Kitchen cabinets having flour bins, utensil drawers, towel racks, and other kitchen essentials break the monotonous kitchen routine and meet good housekeeping requirements. However, if the cabinets are improperly located, convenience and efficiency are reduced.

Kitchens may be modernized and new cabinets and equipment installed with funds obtainable from lending institutions qualified under the Federal Housing Administration Modernization Credit Plan.

Efficiency in Chimneys

A Standard Plan

Costs have been kept down in this home with the result that a popular model has been produced considerably below the $5,000 mark. The plan of this home follows a familiar pattern but not its costs. The Federal Housing Administration insured its mortgage of $3,300 after FHA officials had assigned the home a valuation of $4,250. The mortgage will be amortized over a period of twenty years during which time the monthly payments will amount to only $22.44, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance. This home was built in Iowa.

for efficiency in a chimney, Federal Housing Administration officials say. Drafts in low chimneys are erratic in action, although local conditions must be considered in the construction of any chimney as overhanging trees, the height of the chimney above the roof and strong prevalent winds can cause disturbances in the draft action. FHA's Modernization credit plan provides a way of repairing a smoking chimney or unsatisfactory fireplace.

An Extra Bath
Home owners who have seldom-used clothes closet or some other waste room space can have the comfort of an extra bath through installation of a cabinet shower. Though lacking the convenience and size of an entire additional bathroom, the cabinet shower alleviates an inadequate bathroom situation. A space three square feet or less is sufficient in which to install complete shower-bath cabinets. Guaranteed to be leakproof, the cabinet installation requires no special treatment of walls or floors. Dead-end hallways, closets, or nooks in the basement are ideal locations for such cabinet installations which may be financed with funds obtainable from qualified lending institutions under FHA's Modernization Credit Plan.

Fall Roof Painting
The roof should be placed high on the list of subjects for consideration as home owners approach the season for making plans for Fall repairs and improvements. Roofing authorities recommend that the tip roof be painted at once upon installation and every two years thereafter. Where galvanized sheet metal is used, the roof should not be painted for at least six months after installation as this period of conditioning is necessary to free the surface acids which otherwise may tend to loosen the paint.

UNSEASONED LUMBER CAUSES SHRINKAGE

Unseasoned framing lumber is subject to considerable shrinkage which may increase the rate of deterioration of a house, Federal Housing Administration officials say. To avoid such an eventuality, FHA construction requirements stipulate that well-seasoned lumber shall be used on homes securing insured mortgages.

Rats, like human beings, are both "right and left-handed", according to a survey.

Definition For Three Decay Terms Given

The following definitions of depreciation, deterioration, and obsolescence are recognized by the Federal Housing Administration in its examination of properties given as security for insured mortgages: (1) Depreciation is defined as loss in value from any cause whatever; (2) deterioration refers to decay and disintegration which takes place in structures with the passage of time; and (3) obsolescence refers to those changes in the usefulness of structures which cause them to become less desirable and less useful.

BE A BETTER COOK

YOU can make all sorts of exciting new dishes on one of these marvelous new Gas Ranges. Broiling's a cinch with the smokeless broiler. Ovens have a whole new bag of tricks. They give higher heat than ever before—and hold a lower temperature as well. You can make vegetables more delicious the "waterless" way on the simmer burners. ## Innovations In Painting Refreshing

Modern decorators have made many departures from tradition, and in the field of room painting they have discovered many interesting effects which home owners of another period would not have thought possible.

One deviation from the usual theme may be found in painting a wall recess a color different from the one in general use. Frequently rooms have recessed areas for bookcases or other purposes; when given a different color, it should be chosen to show off books or furniture to advantage.

Blue recesses in a room with ivory walls are recommended by some decorators, while white recesses in green walls are also thought effective. Interior painting is eligible under the Modernization Credit Plan of the Federal Housing Administration.

Moving Season Now Approaching

Income Properties Should Be Renovated

Owners of apartments, flats and houses may repair, renovate, or modernize their properties through FHA's Modernization Credit Plan and have them ready prior to the Fall moving season which is near at hand in many localities. Competition for tenants will be keener than usual this Fall, some sources believe, due to the extensive rise in residential construction last Spring and during the summer.

Proceeds of a Modernization Credit Plan loan, obtainable from qualified lending institutions, may be used for redecorating, purchase and installation of new plumbing, heating and electric systems, and for many other types of improvements and additions.

BLINDS MAY BE EASILY OPERATED

The renewed popularity of Venetian blinds brings up the question of why ordinary window blinds or shutters have fallen from their useful beginnings to the pointless role of decorations. It is probable that the difficulties presented by the universal use of screens account for their lapse into disuse. Blind operators worked from the inside obviate this objection.

There are 13 birds which have as their specific name, "Carolina", or its derivations. The specific name of the "chuck-will's-widow" is antrostomus carolinensis.

Home Location Is Important

Number of Factors To Be Considered

There are a number of factors of considerable importance in the location of a property, Federal Housing Administration officials point out.

(1) The property should be located in a neighborhood which has promise of a harmonious development. Zoning, deed restrictions, or other devices should offer security against decline in desirability for residential purposes due to encroachment of inharmonious land uses.

(2) The property should be so located as to be free from unusual danger from conflagrations, flood, subsidence, erosion, and similar conditions which might destroy land and buildings.

(3) The property should be accessible to suitable employment areas, market centers, schools and recreational facilities. Adequate transportation should be available.

(4) The property should be located on a minor street rather than on a major thoroughfare with heavy traffic.

FIRST-FLOOR WASHROOM DESIRABLE ADDITION

A first-floor washroom, often termed downstairs lavatory or powder room, furnishes a desirable addition to any home, Federal Housing Administration officials point out. Under the Modernization Credit Plan, funds may be obtained from qualified lending institutions with which to install such rooms.

On Mt. Washington, N. H., a 231-mile-an-hour wind was recorded in 1934.

Unusual Color For Dining Background

An attractive dining room has a floor painted deep blue, almost black. Chairs are upholstered in blue leather, with the same shade carried out in window, door, baseboard and cornice trim.

The Federal Housing Administration program makes artistic home decoration possible through the advancement of funds by private financial institutions.

Home Inspection Urged Before Fall Repairs

Systematic Survey of Structure Recommended

Preliminary to making repairs to the home in advance of the Fall and Winter seasons, it is wise to begin with the basement and conduct the inspection in a systematic system. Federal Housing Administration officials say.

Among the points which should be taken into consideration are: (1) Examination of the foundation walls for cracks and to observe whether mortar in joints is loose or has fallen out; (2) if there are wooden sills on the top of the walls, see whether they are sound and whether cracks between wall and sills are caulked to keep out moisture and cold air; (3) see whether there is fire-stopping on the sills between floor joists; (4) if the basement is not sealed, the joists can be examined for signs of sagging and warping; (5) see whether there are signs of damage in posts, sills, joists and other woodwork caused by termites or other destructive insects; (6) make sure that all exposed water pipes are protected from freezing; (7) if there are floor drains in the basement or garage, see that there is sufficient water in them to maintain a seal in the traps. Funds with which to make any necessary repairs of this type are obtainable from qualified lending institutions under FHA's Modernization Credit Plan.

HOME GROUNDS

Fundamental principles of laying out a small property include the following:

Enclose your plot. Give it a frame. Use fences, walls, hedges or shrubberies inter-planted with groups of trees. Such a frame will separate your property from the street and from the neighboring lots and also act as a background for the garden areas you develop inside.

Separate the drive to the garage from the other parts of the lot. This will add interest to the drive itself and subordinate the garage to the house proper.

Develop the grounds in front of the house into an attractive doorway. A few shrubs at the corners of the house or at the entrance door, a few vines on the walls, a tree to cast a pleasant shadow may be added. Some times the entire front yard may be developed into a garden with beds and borders of colorful flowers.

Develop the ground at the rear of the house into a garden. It may be a simple lawn encircled by trees, shrubs and flowers; it may be a shady grass plot under a wood-lane tree to be surrounded with woody shrubs and plants, again it may be a sunny garden full of colorful flowers and roses and flowering shrubs. Or it may be developed into a vegetable and fruit garden, useful as well as beautiful.

If there is a side space, it may be very attractive to have a garden continue out from the side porch or sunporch.

Doors should open into the garden from convenient points—from the side sunporch or openings to the front and back gardens.

Use French doors and windows as axes upon which to center the gardens.

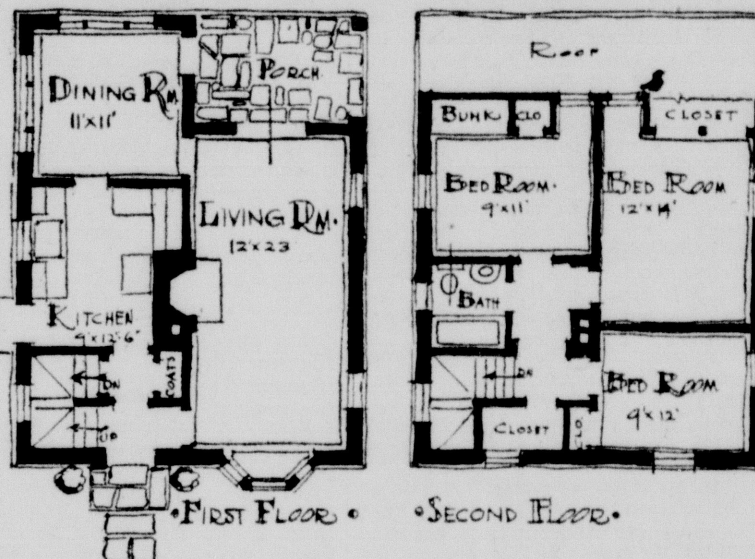

Provide easy communication between the various parts of the grounds so one may make a complete circuit without retracing his footsteps.

Note the picture which the garden provides from each door and window of the house. If proper planting and arrangement is done in all sections of your property, you will be surprised and delighted with the beauty which you will bring to your property, whether it is small or more extensive.

BASEMENT

Why not convert the dark, dusty, littered basement into a roomy clean and light recreation room? The cost is usually small and the room immediately becomes the play center for the family.

FOR NARROW LOT

Here is a small house designed for a very narrow lot, yet planned so there are well-proportioned rooms of ample size. Note the lovely bay in the living room, the arrangement and unusually small halls.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. The mortgage on my house was refinanced through a government agency. I am behind in my interest payments, but if I could make improvements on a rental property I own, I think the increased income from that would help me make the interest payments on my home. Could I obtain an FHA-financed loan for those improvements?

A. You could not as long as you are behind in such interest payments as you have mentioned. A loan cannot be made to a borrower who is delinquent at the time the loan is to be made, as to either principal or interest, with respect to an obligation owing to or insured by any department or agency of the Federal Government.

Q. Should sloping lots be avoided when selecting a house site?

A. Not necessarily. Sloping lots often lend themselves to attractive variations from conventional room arrangements by the use of varying floor levels adapted to the natural slope of the ground, but steep slopes tend to increase the cost of the house due to the extra foundations, grading, retaining walls, and other possible items that may be required.

Q. We are building a new home. Eventually we desire to landscape the property according to a definite plan. What trees and shrubs should we plant first for best effect and consideration of economy?

A. It would be advisable to plant the permanent shade trees; mass planting to create privacy or pleasant outlook from within the grounds; and shrubs and small trees which are desired to complete the architectural design of the house.

ment the architectural design of the house.

Q. Are hip roofs more expensive than pitched roofs?

A. On small houses hip roofs, depending upon conditions, are generally somewhat more expensive than gable roofs due to the additional labor for framing, waste in fitting rafters, metal flashing, and the shingle coaming required on the hips. This cost is partially offset by the cost of the gable ends required by a gable roof. The difference in cost between these two types of roofs, however, is not significant enough to cause the selection of the gable roof if the architectural design dictated the selection of a hip roof.

FHA Insures Funds For Modernization

Shelter is one of the fundamental essentials of life. Beyond the basic need of shelter, however, people of the present day are giving more thought to the improvement of their places of living—to making their homes not only more convenient, comfortable and happier places in which to live, but to add to their appearance and promote an artistic environment. Substantial assistance to this end is given under the terms of the Federal Housing Administration's program.

CLOSETS

When you remodel your home be sure to add enough closets so that storage space will be available at all times. Closets can most always be worked into a house, and careful consideration should be given to this convenience unit.

Space on Sides Of Homes Needed

Lots 40 Feet Wide or Wider Recommended

Ample space should be available on all sides of a house in which required windows are located. Federal Housing Administration officials say. For detached dwellings, lots 40 feet wide or wider are recommended.

In addition, the house should be placed on the lot so that advantage is taken of the best natural features: Views, slope of the land, sunlight, prevailing winds, and shade trees.

Planting, also, should be designed to furnish an attractive setting for the house. Other important considerations in planning the plot of a house should be privacy and freedom from noise, as well as ample light and air. The garage, if any, should be located as to furnish easy access from street or alley, as well as from the house itself.

Complete Contracts Vital To Home Owner, FHA Says

The importance of having well-drawn and complete contract documents when building a home cannot be overemphasized. Federal Housing Administration officials say.

Many prospective home owners, very exacting in their usual business dealings, allow loose and irregular contractual agreements when building their homes, FHA officials say. Such practices may lead to unnecessary misunderstandings, legal entanglements, and other avoidable difficulties which may result in loss to the owner.

Included in contract documents are the Agreement Between the Contractor and the Owner, the General Conditions, the Specifications, and the Working Drawings. Before such documents are prepared the laws of the state and the regulations and ordinances of the particular community covering building operations should be properly prepared and filed as a protection to the owner against possible losses which might result from failure to present them to the proper local authority.

In the preparation of contract documents, provisions should be included for each part of the building process as well as definite statements concerning the respective responsibilities of all persons signing the contract.

OUTDOOR LIVING ROOM

An outdoor living room can be enlivened with many colorful touches — gardens, pools, rock gardens, sun dials and bird baths, gaily painted furniture, graceful pergolas, trellises, garden houses, gay umbrellas, etc.

If space permits, a clay or concrete tennis court can be made without much trouble and if space is limited a paddle tennis court requires less area than do the court for shuffle board and outdoor checkers.

Full Plumbing System Is Aid To Home Health

A complete and properly designed plumbing system within a house contributes materially to the comfort and good health of the occupants. Federal Housing Administration officials point out.

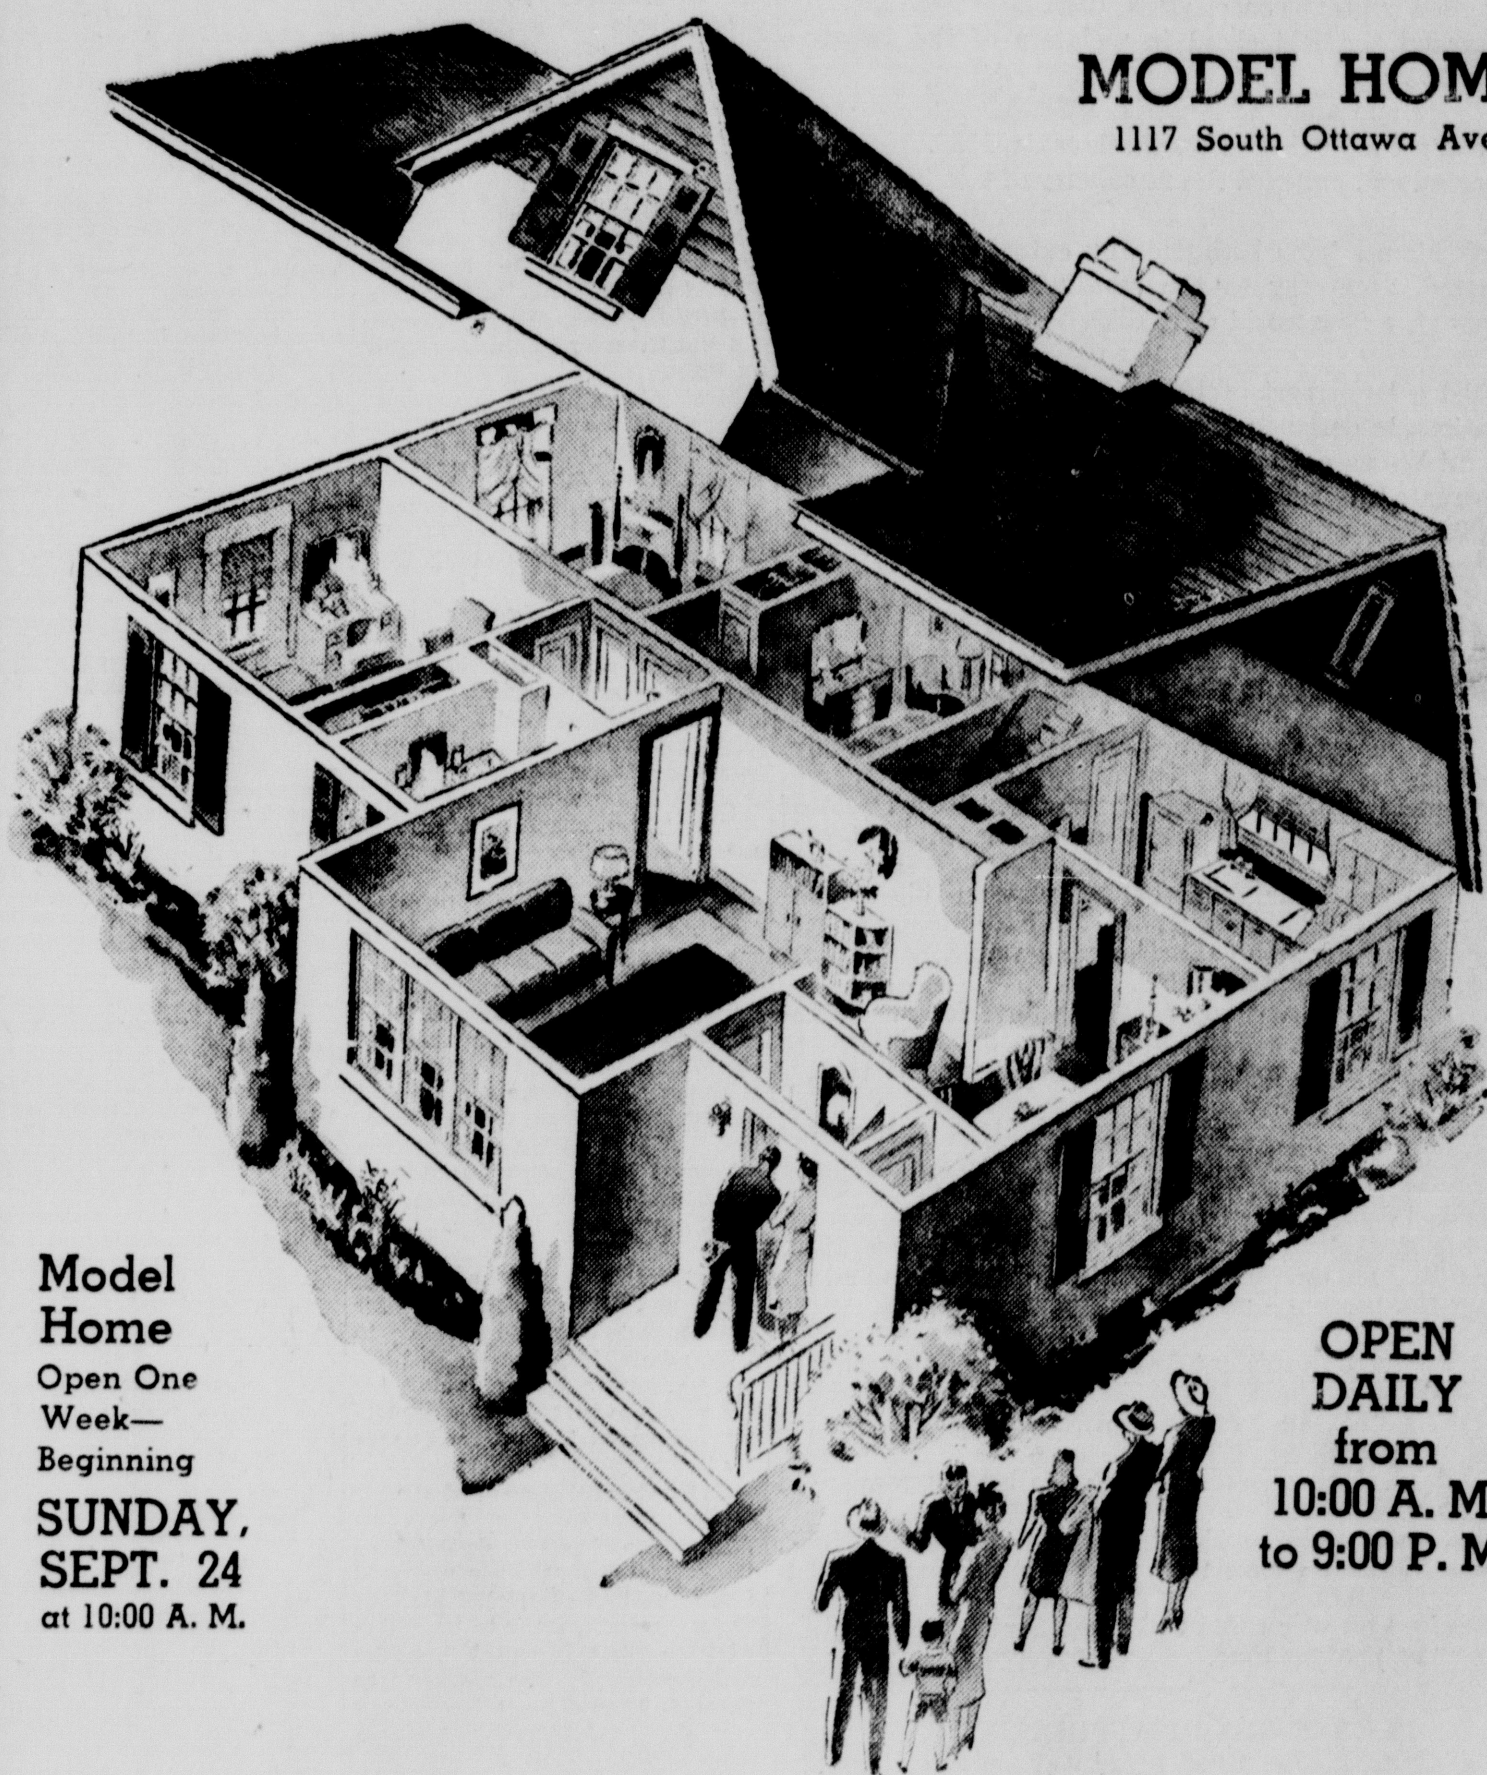

Only workmen who are familiar with the basic principles which create a sanitary, effective and economical plumbing system should be used in installing a system, authorities say.

Where economy is an important consideration, it is necessary to concentrate the plumbing fixtures in a single-story house. In houses of more than one story, it is necessary to concentrate the fixtures occurring on each floor and so locate them that those fixtures located on the upper floors are as nearly over the fixtures on the first floor as is practicable, in order to save piping. Thus, careful thought is needed when planning the plumbing system in a house.

THE BLACK KETTLES AND BLACK POTS OF EUROPE

Whatever attitude the United States takes toward the European war, all patriotic people are agreed that that attitude must be dictated only by what seems best for the United States.

Those who seek a more or less active participation in the war on the side of the British and French base their view on the feeling that if the Germans beat them the world will be uncomfortable and unsafe for American democracy.

Those who seek to insure that the United States take no part in the war base their view on the feeling that American democracy is best served by preserving its strength and its essence by keeping as clear as possible of the whole thing.

Either view sounds selfish. But what else is justified by the record of both sides since the World War? The Miami Daily News recently assembled the damning record of all the warring powers since 1919. By permission we reproduce that record:

Germany:

Spent from 1919 to 1933 complaining against the treaty of Versailles and trying to evade many of its provisions.

Spent from 1933 to 1939 tearing up the treaty of Versailles.

Decreed military conscription, 1935.

Occupied the Rhineland in violation of the Locarno treaty, 1936.

Invaded and annexed Austria, 1938.

Sliced off a portion of Czechoslovakia, 1938.

Invaded and annexed the remainder of Czechoslovakia, 1939.

Took Memel from Lithuania by extortion, 1939.

Started, according to the best information available at present, a new world war, 1939.

Poland:

Seized a large part of Upper Silesia from the League of Nations in defiance of the result of a plebiscite, 1921.

Seized Wilno, capital of Lithuania, 1924.

Mistreated German and Ukrainian minorities, 1919 to 1939.

Seized Teschen area from prostrate Czechoslovakia, 1938.

France:

Blocked every effort to induce the victorious powers to disarm, as promised in the treaty of Versailles, 1919 to 1933.

Carried on economic war upon prostrate Germany, 1919-1929.

Dominated the League of Nations which put seal of approval upon Polish seizures of Silesia in 1921 and Wilno in 1924.

Occupied the Ruhr valley of Germany on thin reparations pretext, 1923, with Prime Minister Poincare privately expressing hope the Germans would not pay so France could annex the valley.

Unofficially supported Japanese invasion of Manchuria until realizing her stand was undermining her own insistence upon sanctity of the Versailles treaty, 1931.

Blocked effective sanctions against Italy when latter invaded Ethiopia, 1935.

Sacrificed Czechoslovakia to appeasement policy, 1938.

Violated Syrian mandate by letting Turks take district of Hatay in deal for Anglo-Franco-Turkish alliance, 1939.

Defaulted on war debts to United States up to and including the present time.

England:

Carried on intermittent bombing of tribes on Northwest frontier of India, 1920-1939.

Supported Japan against United States at time of Manchurian invasion, 1931.

Failed to deal effectively with Italian aggression in Ethiopia, 1935.

Sacrificed Czechoslovakia to appeasement policy, 1938.

Broke Balfour promise of a Jewish homeland in Palestine, 1938-1939.

Defaulted on war debts to United States up to and including the present time.

PLEASELY DISAPPOINTING

"Well, children, this new-fangled war ain't anything like the World War. That 1914-1918 argument was a bang-up fight, tooth, nail and claw. The tail went with the hide."

In some such manner veterans of the World War may be heard comparing the present European difficulty with its late predecessor. The truth is that this new war hasn't started as expected, and to date it has lacked the horrors predicted.

Only a few years ago prophets looked into the future and saw a war coming. They also predicted how it would start. Some evening, as soon as it was dark, a few thousand airplanes would take off from Berlin. Each would be laden with poison gas bombs or hundreds of pounds of some new and mightier explosive. These planes would lay London or Paris low in a few moments. Meanwhile British and French planes would journey to Berlin and retaliate in similar manner.

But behold, nothing of the kind has happened—to date. Instead, a few British and French planes have dropped some sissy propaganda leaflets on nazi skulls. Instead of starting without declaration and with a sudden thud, the war began with days of argument, warnings and ultimatums.

We hasten to recognize that there may be horror enough before the struggle is ended. Even now it is insufferable. But we are glad to know that the prophets were wrong about its beginning.

And so may the prophets be wrong who warned that another European war would wipe out civilization. They gave us the impression that when the fight is ended scores of millions of men will be dead. Governments will be bankrupt. There will be no trains, telephones, radio, banks, newspapers, churches, automobiles—not even taverns. Everything will be quiet save for the jabbering of a few cave men.

And, by the way, that might almost happen. But as the prophets were wrong about the launching of the war, let us hope they are wrong about this war's ultimate results.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Sept. 22 — Mr.

Roosevelt frankly told the leaders he summoned into White House seclusion that he expected the war to spread. He broadly hinted in one sentence of his message to Congress that it might spread fast: "War zones may change so swiftly and so frequently in the days to come, that it is impossible to fix them permanently by act of Congress."

His inside information, I am told, envisions the whole of southern Europe and Turkey being drawn in on one side or another as the next big move. This is where the real fighting is going on now—the fight for allies behind the curtains of Balkan, Rumanian, Italian and even Turkish chancelleries.

Latest diplomatic data here has again encouraged the belief that the British and French will gain entree to Germany's back door at the Brenner pass in Italy. This information does not suggest how the back door will be opened, but the beginnings of a deal on sound grounds have been made. If these hopes have been falsely raised, you can at least rest assured that the climax of Franco-British pressure on Mussolini is at hand, and developments are anticipated.

Hitler now has such economic controls over Hungary and Slovakia that he can play them as his pawns. The assassination of the Rumanian premier may make his cause easier in Rumania, and it was never difficult. For the past ten days, Rumania has been considered probably lost to the Franco-British cause. Where Yugoslavia and Greece go depends mainly on Italy.

Most intense inner diplomatic struggle at the moment is in Turkey. Russia has been playing around there, but no more actively than the British and French. Turkey is likely to come in with the allies whenever Rumania falls the other way.

No change is looked for in the neutral status of Belgium, Holland and the Scandinavian countries any time soon.

Many legislators did not bring their wives back (including Republican Leaders McNary and Austin) but are now sending for them. There has been a general unspoken feeling here that the war might collapse, but Mr. Roosevelt's assumption that it will be long and hard fought has done much to dissipate that suspicion.

The reason more was not printed about the leadership conference at the White House was only because it was a dull affair. No one said anything that would make a headline. The President was not the vehement leader he appeared to be the next day before Congress, but open, conciliatory, friendly.

Lindbergh's speech advocating calm and true neutrality drew some private caustic comments from administration officials, but there seems to be no ground for the suspicion that the war department removed him from service for it.

Major General Arnold of the air service went to War Secretary Harry Woodring two days before the colonel took the air and said Lindbergh had completed his survey work and wanted to be relieved from what is called "inactive active service." The request was granted. They did not know until next day he intended to make a speech.

Some zealous Roosevelt devotees and some outsiders who like hysterics apparently wrung minor anti-administration inferences out of the speech that were not apparent to all. But what Lindbergh said did not upset the inner circle as much as the tip they received that William Castle, former Assistant Secretary of State in the Hoover cabinet, gave Lindbergh some advice on it. If any ghosting was done on the speech, it appears to have been done by Mrs. Lindbergh who writes better than anyone in Washington, and many other places.

Mr. Roosevelt's inspiring oratory for neutrality created genuine enthusiasm in Congress—in fact one legislator said it made him wholly forget for 24 hours that the only issue was whether arms and munitions should be shipped to Britain and France.

An official has a way of speaking of the possible joining of Germany, Russia and Japan as heralding "the greatest invasion since Genghis Khan."

A leading military figure here stepped up to another and asked: "If you were Hitler now, what would you do next?"

The accented one, hesitated a moment, replied, "I'd go fishing."

In other words, Hitler is generally considered here to be secure

After A Man's Heart

by JEAN RANDALL

Yesterday, Life goes smoothly for two months. In January Iris DeMuth returns. Tim angrily accuses Buff of being philanthropic by buying his worthless land for what he said. He won't listen to her denials.

Chapter 18
Lightning Strikes Again

"I'm not especially anxious to see you ever again," Buff told Tim when he telephoned. "I don't wonder. But honestly, Buff . . ."

"Hurry up!" she said, a crackle in her voice. "I've only another two minutes."

"Will you let me come some time today any time? When I can see you alone?"

"Sorry, I'm full up for today. Tomorrow, too. In fact, my time is pretty well taken up for weeks. Bye!"

Nevertheless he was waiting for her when she returned at lunch time.

"And you have to be polite to me because I'm a guest," he said. "Webby invited me to stay. She's set a place for me."

Her expression of austerity did not soften.

"I suppose, she said, 'you've discovered the smug philanthropist who paid the exact sum for your slice of mountain, and have come around to apologize.'"

"How you do put your finger on it!" Tim said. "You mean to say Iris DeMuth—the girl who tricked you into buying up a lot of useless land—Iris bought it back? But why?"

"She says . . ."

"Say? Do you mean to tell me you've talked to her?"

"For hours, last evening. At the hotel."

Her knees gave way beneath her and she sank into a chair.

"Has she experienced religion, or did her partner in crime discover there really is silver in that mine after all?"

"Neither. She . . . I know it sounds screwy, Buff. It did me. In fact, it was a long time before I could believe it. But it seems Iris was well, it was really Lathaw who thought up the scheme and he had sort of a hold over her . . ."

"Sort of? What sort of? Blackmail?"

"You'd have to know Iris to understand." A softened note crept into his voice. "She's a trusting, innocent sort of a girl; not independent and self-reliant like you. Well, it's almost made her ill all these months—knowing that she'd been the unconscious partner in a fraud, I mean. She . . ."

Tim had been called to the telephone soon after dinner the night before. Buff, of course, he thought, to say she was sorry for their quarrel of the afternoon. Buff, thank heaven, never held to a resentful mood long. Her anger flared briefly and quickly, and then he, the beholder, knew it had been kindled, save that he was apt, for days after and to intense surprise, to discover he had received rather painful burns.

Tim's way to the hall where the telephone stood with a lightness of heart which astonished him. He had not known how much he had suffered beneath the girl's displeasure until he learned it was to be lifted by this call. He was dazed when he heard a voice, which was not Buff's, but was still undeniably familiar, speak his name.

"Tim?"

"Oh, Tim," sighed the voice sorrowfully.

"It was then he knew. No one else in the world spoke with the same wistful sweetness, the same, during upward inflection of his name."

"Iris?"

"Yes, it's Iris, my dear! Come back to undo—so far as I can—the great wrong I did you last summer."

He stood dazed and silent, the receiver at his ear. For weeks after Iris had left Boulder, and before he himself had signs of collapse, he had dreamed, sleeping and waking, of just this kind of Iris returning to say it was all a mistake; that she loved him, that there was a reason for her seeming treachery.

Now it was coming true, and instead of the wild ecstasy he had thought to feel he was merely numb with bewilderment.

"Are you there, Tim? Why don't you speak?"

"Surely, he thought impersonally. Iris had the sweetest voice in the world; not low like Buff's, with little gruff and hoarse notes in it, but musical, throbbing; the kind of voice which makes the most of the most practical of listeners."

"I'm here," he replied.

"Will you come at once? I'm at the hotel. And of course there are millions of things I must say to you."

He cleared his throat. "Iris, I don't think . . ."

"No, dearest, I'd rather you didn't—not until after I've seen you, at any rate. All sorts of things have taken place since I've been here last night. For example—did you know your land—yours and George's—had been bought back?"

"Iris!" Light suddenly flooded the subject. "It was you! You were the only one who knew how much we paid for it!"

"Of course it was I, you silly boy!" Laughter and tenderness combined in the lovely voice. "It was some time to get enough money together, but when I did, of course I bought it. Now will you come and see me?"

"I'll come," he promised, and hung up. In ten minutes he was being shown to the private sitting room Miss DeMuth had engaged.

She came toward him with outstretched arms. They were white, slender, and she lifted them. He recognized the crown she wore. It had been one of his favorites. Perhaps too elaborate for a January evening in a quiet hotel, nevertheless, it served the purpose for which it was made. The months of unhappiness since he had last seen Iris as neighborly as possible could have done.

Against serious military damage from France and Britain until they can get to the back door.

Miss Rose Hager, Bride-to-Be, Is Feted by Friends

First of the parties preceding the wedding of Miss Rose Hager and Robert Sterling was given last evening at the Sterling home on Dement avenue. Mrs. Louis Salzman assisted the bridegroom-elect's sister, Mrs. Raymond Toot, as hostess, entertaining with a variety shower.

The ceremony that will unite Miss Hager and the son of the R. W. Sterlings of 221 Dement avenue will be solemnized Monday morning, Oct. 16, at St. Luke's Episcopal church. The Rev. Father B. Norman Burke will hear the vows at 11 o'clock.

Touch-Football to Be Tried at Franklin Grove

(Telegraph Special Service)

Franklin Grove, Sept. 23.—To substitute for baseball, in which student interest has lagged, touch football played on the basis of the rules governing six-man football will be instituted as an autumn intra-mural sport at the Community high school.

Many of the boys eagerly and enthusiastically reported for the workouts of last week in order to condition themselves and assimilate a few valuable fundamentals prior to the school's inauguration of intra-mural play. The remainder of this week will also be given over to fundamentals of passing and kicking. There will be four teams comprising the league and there will be two games each week at 3:30 P. M. on Wednesday and Friday. This athletic schedule will stand until weather prohibits or the intervention of the basketball campaign which will start in late October.

BILLY CONN AND BETTINA TO MEET IN RING MONDAY NIGHT

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Professor Mike Jacobs and his justly-famous fight manager have moved on here for another one-night stand, this one to feature the eminent light-heavyweights, Champion Billy Conn and Ex-Champion Mello Bettina, on Monday.

The troupe got here to find it being taken more or less for granted that Conn, making his first title defense before the home folks, would give them fully as good a show as Joe Louis gave his Detroit neighbors the other night.

They think around here that Billy the Kid is a cinch to beat Bettina again, that this scrap merely is a little chore he promised to attend to before he goes on up a notch and begins slug-fighting heavyweight contenders around. Specifically, Billy's first major heavyweight opponent is supposed to be Lou Nova, after he disposes of the light heavyweight challenge of Gus Lesnevich, always supposing of course, that he gets by Bettina.

LOUISVILLE COLONELS WIN IN SERIES WITH HOOSIERS

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Cinderella boys of baseball—that's the Louisville Colonels. The red-hot Kentuckians capped an in-and-out season by winning the American Association final playoff last night, defeating Indianapolis, 6 to 5, and capturing the series, four games to one.

Today they were looking for a new title to win—specifically the "Little World's Series" with the winner of the International League playoff between Newark and Rochester. Newark won last night to lead, three games to two.

NATIONAL LEAGUE RACE BECOMES A 'WAR OF NERVES'

Reds' Lead is Increased to Three Full Games Yesterday

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer This National League pennant fight has become a "war of nerves", with the baseball world waiting to see whether the Cincinnati Reds or the St. Louis Cardinals crack first.

On the face of matters, the Reds seem to have passed an important crisis by plastering a pair of defeats on the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 6-0 and 10-9, to expand their lead to three full games.

But the bald fact remains that Cincinnati or no one else can have any calm until someone stops the surge of St. Louis, even if the Reds have to do it themselves next week.

The Cards cuffed the Chicago Cubs, 3-2, yesterday for their fifth straight victory and their 11th in 13 games. That's traveling nearly as fast as the law allows, and certainly furnishes no opportunity for relaxation by the Reds.

This was the way they came to the post today:

Games Games Be- To Cincinnati .. 90 54 10 St. Louis .. 87 57 3 9

Another Doubleheader

The Reds, confronted with another doubleheader with the Pirates today, made the most out of their chances yesterday, but left a lot of supporters a bit shaken about the way they did it.

In the first game, Gene Thompson hurled seven-hit ball, Ernie Lombardi hit his 20th home run and Ival Goodman contributed two triples. They started just as impressively in the nightcap, taking a 7-0 lead in the third inning when Wally Berger homered with the bases loaded.

But then they gave up seven runs in one inning on three hits, three walks and three errors. It was anybody's ball game after that, and the Reds were lucky to win.

Gang Up on French

The Cards ganged up on Larry French in the fourth with three runs on two singles and two doubles. Bob Bowman came through with some sparkling pinch hitting when the Cubs began getting playful with more Cooper's offerings.

Bob Feller got his 22nd victory of the campaign as the Cleveland Indians downed Detroit, 5-4, but it came in an unexpected manner. Feller scattered nine hits, but two of these were home runs by Roy Cullenbine, one of them with two on base. The Indians, as usual, hit behind Feller and brought him in to the ninth with the score tied, Feller promptly doubled and then scored the winning run on Roy Weatherly's single.

The Boston Red Sox raked three Philadelphia Pitchers for 13 hits and bunched four runs in the fourth to beat the Athletics, 7-5. These were the only scheduled games.

Dixon high school's football team opened the 1939 campaign here yesterday afternoon with a no-decision score of 6 to 6 in the game with Rock Falls, but if the visitors couldn't cash in on their chips they at least had the bigger stack.

On paper the Green and Black war machine rolled all over the Dixon defenders and it was only Mantsch's intercepted pass and a race of 52 yards for a touchdown which gave the locals from actual defeat.

Coach C. B. Lindell's early season gloom was given just cause as his Purple plunkers showed up badly against the rivals. The boys tried, it isn't that, but there's a pronounced lack of beef and experience. A couple more games may take care of the education, but the missing brawn must be substituted with strategy.

Ends Are Weak

In yesterday's game the Rock Falls team bottled up the home-townners at every turn and romped around ends almost at will. The Rock Falls' back field showed far more class. In Dixon's offense, the best work of the afternoon was turned in by fullback Bob Collins, while Robinson was outstanding for Coach Quire's men.

The game started with Dixon kicking off to Rock Falls. Edeus took the ball on his own 15 yard line and returned to the 25 before he was dropped. On the first play Robinson went through left tackle for five yards. Edeus hit the center of the line for four more yards and Robinson made it a first down on his own 36 with a sweep around left end.

In the next series of plays Rock Falls pick up another first down when Edeus went through right tackle for five yards, and Robinson circled right end for nine yards to the mid-stripe.

Robinson faded back for a pass but couldn't get it off and time and on an attempted run he reached the line of scrimmage. Edeus picked up about a yard through center. Collins smeared Robinson behind the line on third down and the visitors were forced to punt.

Return Point

McNichols gained two yards on the return to the Dixon 28 yard line. On the first play Collins took the ball through center for four yards. Riedorf threw Mantsch for a yard loss on second down and Collins punted to Robinson on the Rock Falls 35 and he struggled to the halfway mark before being downed.

Robinson tried the center of the line and two passes by Edeus were incomplete to force the Rock Falls boys to punt. Sanborn took the ball on his own 37 and was halted in his tracks for no return.

Collins picked up a couple of yards through center and McNichols on a left tackle drive gained three yards. Mantsch carried the ball for three yards before Collins punted again and Wienman fell on it on the Rock Falls 21 yard marker.

Offside penalties for both teams marked the end of the first quarter and the start of the second. Collins tried the right end of his line for four yards as Dixon opened the quarter with a five yard penalty. On a reverse Collins gave the ball to McNichols who lost about a yard. Mantsch's quick pass over the line to Shoaf was good to the Dixon 36. A sneaker

LaSalle Baseball Club Meets Dixon Here Tomorrow

Tomorrow at 2:30 the Dixon Knacks, champions of the Illinois State League, will meet the strong LaSalle Merchants here. The visitors are a highly touted club which won two and lost one in the recent semi-pro tournament at Peoria.

Manager Hi Emmert has named his starting lineup as follows: Flanagan, ss; Ellis, rf; Preestegard or Slain, 1b; Windmiller, c; Shires Miller or Kuhn, cf; Courtwright, lf; Bus Carlson, 2b; Lebre, 3b; and Bob Howe to pitch.

Howe pitched this year for Lincoln, Nebraska in the Western League and finished with Moline in the Three-Eye loop.

All possibility of Nelson Potter's appearance was cancelled with the birth of a son yesterday.

The batting and fielding averages of the Dixon club on the eve of the game show the following percentages.

the 45 who returned to the 25 of Dixon. Two pass attempts failed and a lateral was good for about a yard. Collins was in on the tackle. Another pass failed and Dixon took possession. Sanborn passed to Bugg for the only first down of the Dixon team on its own 35. Mantsch picked up five yards on two plays around right end and Walders on an average to Sanborn last about six yards. Collins punted again to Robinson who returned the kick from his own 20 to 45. Shoaf blocked a pass by Robinson and Rock Falls was penalized 15 yards on for pushing when Purdue romped around right end for eight yards. Gearhart made the tackle to drop Robinson for a six yard gain around left end and Wienman intercepted Edeus' pass and went to his own 45. Sanborn's pass was no good as the game ended.

SAVED THE DAY

Coach Winger's reserves, in the game which followed the varsity affair, saved the day from complete rout by scoring one touchdown over the Rock Falls ponies to win 6 to 0. Spencer's pass in the fourth frame was intercepted by Walders who romped 30 yards for a touchdown. Shoaf's attempted kick was blocked.

It was a repeat of the heavy-weight game for measure of Dixon's ability and strength and until the touchdown was made neither team did much threatening into enemy territory. Hoeman, fullback, was outstanding for Dixon and showed offense ability.

Dr. Arthur Harms, Dies, Brother of Palmyra Woman

Dr. Arthur H. Harms, who was born in Dixon Dec. 22, 1880, son of the late Anton and Mary Ahrens Harms and a brother of Mrs. William Carlson of Palmyra township, passed away in Knoxville, Ill. Thursday after an illness of several weeks. The funeral was held in Knoxville this morning, with burial there. He is survived by his widow, formerly Alice Ward of Sterling; a son, H. Ward Harms of Whitewater, Wis.; and his sister, Mrs. Carlson.

Dr. Harms was reared on the family farm in Palmyra township, attended the district schools and the North Dixon high school from which he was graduated in 1898. He spent two years in the Steinhilber institute at Dixon, taking a pre-medical course, then entered the University of Chicago, where he took a combination course, devoting part of his time to scientific branches and the remainder to the study of medicine. He completed his medical education at Rush medical school and in 1904 located in Sterling, where he remained until about 30 years ago when he moved to Knoxville.

Indiana Federation Refuses to Hear Mooney

Gary, Ind., Sept. 23.—(AP)— The Indiana State Federation of Labor voted against letting Tom Mooney speak at its annual convention here.

Delegates acted yesterday on motion of Harold Lafferty, Hammond hodcarrier, who charged the freed California labor leader had been working for the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Mooney, told the day before he might make an address, was waiting to take the platform when the vote came.

Girl Scouting Supplements All Life's Branches

Girl Scouting, a youth movement designed to supplement home, church and school makes up the fourth division into which the educational process is divided. Girl Scouting aids in the girl's development through recreational activities. During the year, troops meet once a week to carry on those projects which the troop has decided upon.

Beside troop meetings, in summer many girls go camping, an activity which is Girl Scout tradition.

Dixon is fortunate indeed in having so well organized a Girl Scout program. Last year Dixon Girl Scout Council sponsored:

11 active Girl Scout troops with 211 active registered Girl Scouts.
5 active Brownie Packs with 65 active registered Brownies (7 to 10 yrs.)

There are many more girls desirous of joining the Girl Scout movement if Dixon people make it possible with donations to Scout Drive Oct. 10 for funds to carry on this commendable work.

Amusements

BARNUM PLAYERS

Millions of people read the story of Maggie and Jiggs every day in the national newspapers but very few have ever seen the crazy antics of these world-known characters on a stage. The Barnum Players, a professional stock company from Chicago, will present this three-act comedy on the stage of the Sterling Coliseum on Tuesday, Sept. 26 for one performance only. "Bringing Up Father" reveals an incident in the lives of Maggie and Jiggs as Maggie tries to marry off their daughter to an English Duke. The consequences, told in three screamingly funny acts, result in a happy note as the curtain comes down on a reunited family.

The Barnum Players will present a new show every Tuesday night in the Sterling Coliseum. On other nights of each week the Players will travel to other towns. The season will last for twelve weeks with a different comedy brought to playgoers who like their shows in the flesh.

In a single year, aphids, better known as plant lice, may produce 30 generations of offspring.

The world contains 1100 kinds of animals and insects, with thousands of varieties of each.

The snipe-billed eel, a weird fish that lives a mile below the ocean's surface, has a bill like a snipe.
